THE EXAMINATION OF JOHN B. BROWN .-In monetary affairs, there is nothing of interest In the County Court on Thursday last, Justo note. Nothing whatever doing in Stocks, and tices Dixon. R. M. Brown, a dairyman the et., payable to the Stockholders on and after of Alexandria county, who was committed the 15th inst. There is no change whatever in to juil, some time since, by Justice Price on the Richmond Stock market, and we omit our list the charge of bringing incendiary documents into the State with intent to aid the purposes of the abolitionists. The Commonwealth was represented by its Attorney. Messrs. Chilton, Magruder and Brent appeared for Brown. The Commonwealth's Attorney opened the case by observing that in the absence of the certificate of the committing Magistrate as required for law, he would use the recognizance of Mr. Brown, as to the designation of the offence charged. That document charged the prisoner with "having in his possession certain books entitled "Compendium of the Impending crisis of the South," and copies of the New York Tribune: which said book and papers were written and printed with an intent to advise and incite negroes within this commonwealth to rebel, and to deny the rights of masters to their slaves and to adv. cate the duty of resistance to such rights, and which said book and papers were brought into this county of Alexandria, State of Virginia, by J, B. Brown, he well knowing the character and tendency of said book and papers at the time he brought the same into this county, and intending thereby to aid the purpose of the abolitionists." He would put that on record as the form of the charge. but he was not obliged to do so, for he might wait until the committing Magistrate furnished the certificate.

The Counsel for the defence contended in a lengthy discussion that the charge as thus laid accused the prisoner of no crime against the law. They quoted the following section of the code, which they contended set forth quite a different offence from that charged in the recognizance: If a free person write, print, or cause to be written or printed, any book or other writing, with inter t to advise or incite negroes in this state to rebel or make insurrection, or inculcating resistance to the right of property of masters in their slaves, or if he shall, with intent to aid the purpose of any such book or writing, knowingly, circulate the same, he shall be confined in the penitentlary not less than one nor more than five years.

Mr. Stuart thought that if not a felony the offence was at least a misdemeanor.

Mr. Chilton argued that in that case, an examining court had no jurisdiction of the case inasmuch as the county court could try the question as an original one.

The Court, Justice Dixon dissenting, decided that the offence charged was within the The testimony was then opened for the
